

Carlyle is the UK's largest distributor of body components for the Bus and Coach industry, parts are delivered via our UK branch network and world wide, via our export division.

This catalogue provides a simple reference guide for identifying and ordering electrical parts. Our range is continually updating, if you find there's an item you require that's not listed please call your local branch and speak to one of our highly trained staff who will assist in tracking down your part. The product range is sourced from across the world, bringing you O.E branded parts direct to your doorstep.

We lead the field in parts distribution and our reputation for reliability and speed of delivery is our strength in ensuring vehicle downtime is kept to an absolute minimum. Our ability to offer parts for the public transport operators is part of our ever evolving service. Carlyle Busparts eliminates the necessity for operators to stock extensive amounts of parts, cutting down on valuable space and capital investment. We also offer an 'off the shelf' parts response from local branches together with a rapid delivery service.

We aim to provide an ever expanding range of 'must have' products to meet our customer's current and future expectations in this specialised industry. We understand the business, the levels of stockholding required and the need for fast delivery.

If its information you need, or problem solving, then our support staff are on hand to research, track and resolve, all from one point of contact. If its parts you need, glass, wipers, electrical, mirrors and accessories we are only a phone call away.